Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 08 May 2006.
2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

This application has been examined. Claims 1-2 are pending.

Priority

This application claims benefits of priority from Foreign Application 10-2003-0079239 (KOREA) filed November 10, 2003.

The effective date of the claims described in this application is November 10, 2003.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 05/08/2006 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over White (US Publication 2007/0149116) further in view of Elliott (US Patent 7277955).

White disclosed (re. Claim 1) a method for providing a jukebox service using a jukebox terminal, the jukebox terminal being connected to a server for storing sound source data and playlists according to jukebox terminals through a network and being provided with RF transmission means wherein the jukebox terminal includes a network transmission/reception unit for transmitting/receiving sound source data to/from the server through the network, and the RF transmission means processes the received sound source data and transmits the processed sound source data to an external audio system as RF signals, comprising the steps of:

receiving a playlist transmitted from the server; (White-Paragraph 60) transmitting a request for one or more pieces of sound source data in the received playlist to the server; receiving the requested sound source data; (White-Figure 8, Paragraph 63) and transmitting the received sound source data to the audio system using the RF transmission means. (White-Paragraph 48-51)

While White substantially disclosed the claimed invention White did not disclose (re. Claim 1) accessing the server through the network to transmit jukebox authentication information including an IP address and a unique ID of a jukebox terminal; and receiving a playlist on the basis of the authentication information transmitted from the server.

Elliott disclosed (re. Claim 1) accessing the server through the network to transmit jukebox authentication information including an IP address and a unique ID of a jukebox terminal; and receiving a playlist on the basis of the authentication information transmitted from the server. (Elliott-Column 5 Lines 35-55)

White and Elliott are analogous art because they present concepts and practices regarding selection and presentation of multimedia playlists to user devices. At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the networking art to combine Elliott into White. The motivation for said combination would have been to enable a stream generator for streaming content to the identified user based on the play list associated with the user. (Elliott-Column 2 Lines 35-55)

White-Elliott disclosed (re. Claim 2) method for providing a jukebox service using a jukebox terminal, the jukebox terminal being connected to a server for storing sound source data through a network and being provided with playlists and RF transmission means wherein the jukebox terminal includes a network transmission/reception unit for transmitting/receiving the sound source data to/from the server through the network and the RF transmission means processes the received sound source data and transmits the processed sound source data to an external audio system as RF signals, comprising the steps of:

accessing the server through the network to transmit jukebox authentication information including an IP address and a unique ID of a jukebox terminal; (Elliott-Column 5 Lines 35-55)

transmitting a request for one or more pieces of sound source data in a corresponding playlist to the server if authentication is verified by the server; (White-Figure 8, Paragraph 63) receiving the requested sound source data; (White-Figure 8, Paragraph 63) and transmitting the received sound source data to the audio system using the RF transmission means. (White-Paragraph 48-51)

Conclusion

Examiner's Note: Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant. Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings of the art and are applied to specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may apply as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant in preparing responses, to fully consider the references in entirety as potentially teaching all or part of the claimed invention, as well as the context of the passage as taught by the prior art or disclosed by the Examiner.

In the case of amending the claimed invention, Applicant is respectfully requested to indicate the portion(s) of the specification which dictate(s) the structure relied on for proper interpretation and also to verify and ascertain the metes and bounds of the claimed invention.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Please refer to the enclosed PTO-892 form.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to GREG BENGZON whose telephone number is (571)272-3944. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon. thru Fri. 8 AM - 4:30 PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, William Vaughn can be reached on (571)272-3922. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
